FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 26, 1858.

A VOLUNTEER BULL FIGHT. I remember once seeing, when a lad at I could not have been more than eight years of age, I shall never forget the spectacle. It.

happened in this wise: Close by the school bouse-a very unpretending edifice it was-ran a deep and rapid river. Across it had been thrown a high wooden bridge, the band railing of which time and the winds and the weather had ertirely destroyed. The land on the opposite sides of the stream was owned by different persons and farmed by them respectively .-One bright summer day-I remember it as it were but yesterday-the hour of noon had arrived, and a froliesome, fun seeking troop of school boys were let loose for an hour's recreation. All at once the bellowing and roaring of two bulls that had broken out of their enclosures on each side of the river attracted our attention. The animals were not yet in sight of each other, but were approaching along the highway at a rate of speed which would cause them to meet near the centre of the high bridge which I have described, and beneath which at some thirty feet ran the river between steep banks. The more daring of us gathered near the bridge, hining it to see the anticipated fight. We were not disappointed. Nearer and nearer approached the Hon. Charles Gayarre, Wm. Gillmore Simms proud, pawing combatants. Bashan never Park Benjamin, Hon. Albert Pike, of Ark produced two of fiercer aspect. They lashed Abbe Adrian Rouquette, Hon. R. T. Conrad, their sides with their tails; they tore the ground | Rev. Ralph Hoyt, Seba Smith. (Jack Downing) with their feet. Occasionally they kneeled J. T. Headley, John G. Save, Lieut. M. F. Mandown, trying to gore the earth with their ry, Edward S. Gould, Charles F. Briggs, C. P. horns. And as yet they were concealed each from the other, by the ascent to the bridge at R. H. Stoddard, John R. Thompson, Frederick either end. Presently, as they simultaneously ascended the respective abutments, they came full to sight of each other. The roar was mutual and actually tremendous. Every urchin of us sprang into the fields, and ran --Finding, however, that we were not pursued we hastily retraced our steps. There they were, quite as sensibly employed as some of their human imitators. Front to front, their borns locked, every muscle strained, they were fighting as only buils can fight. It seemed an even match. Now one would press back his opponent a few paces, and presently you would hear quick, sharp, short steps, and Clara Doty. Abbie W Crocker, Nellie Burchhis adversary would be pressed back in re- field, Ann E. Porter, Lucy N. Godfrey, Lavinia turn. The struggling was bard, was long, S. Goodwin, and Jane G. Austin. was savage. For a while neither obtained an advantage.

Hitherto they had been pushing each othbegan to wheel, and in a moment were facing each other crosswise. They were at right angles with the length of the old bridge, which shook, and creaked, and rocked again. with their trampling and their terrible strife. It was the work of a single moment; one of the beasts-I could not tell which-one of them, however, as if conscious of his position, made a violent, a desperate plunge forward and pressed his antagonist back, back, back, till there was but another step of the plank behind him, between him and nothing! The moneut was one of intense interest to us juvenile spectators. Never was the amphitus atre of Rome the scene of a more exciting combat. Another step backward, yes, the unfortunate buli was forced to take it! Back he is pressed and over be goes!

Such a sight I never saw, I probably never will see again. Imagine a bull pitched backward over a bridge and falling at least thirty feet over and over! He turned once or twice, probably; I thought he turned fifty times, there seemed such a confusion of herns and feet revolving and flying through the air. But down he went; the water was deep and he disappeared, leaving a whirl-rool of foam behind him, and making the river undulate far and wide with the concussion of his ponderous bulk. The other bull did not laugh, merely because bulls, as I suppose, could not. But we laughed and shouted our applause .-There stood the victor, looking directly down into the abyss below, into which he had hura moment, and then, as if frightened at the prospect, he began to snort and step backward. Back, back, he retreated, with his head in the same pugnacious attitude as when in combat-back-still another step back-and over he too went on the opposite side of the bridge, performing just as many and as ludicrous somersets as his adversary had done a minute before. It was a scene to remember: and the performance called forth immense applause from the group of juvenile amateure who witnessed it.

In about five minutes both bulls might be seen well sobered by their ducking, dripping wet, scratching up the steep gravelly bank, each on his own side of the river. "Those bulls will never fight any more," said a boy behind me. His prediction turned out correct; for two more peaceably disposed bulls than they were ever afterward, could not have been tound.

THE "GREAT REPUBLIC" MONTHLY. -TO THE PUBLIC, THE BOOK AND PERIODICAL TRADE, AND THE PRESS -We have the honor to announce that we shall issue, on or about the first of December next, so as to be in season to command the early attention of the public and the periodical trade, the school, a fight between two bulls. Although FIRST NUMBER OF A NEW ILLUSTRA-TED MAGAZINE, to be called The "GREAT

REPUBLIC' MONTHLY. It is intended to make this Magazine superior in every respect to anything ever before issued Red and White Flannels, (very cheap) in this country. The general scope of its character can best be understood by its name. It will be thoroughly national-in no wise sectional or sectarian, and wholly impersonal. It will offer to the writers and thinkers of this Union a common field, where they can meet on the highest ground of cotemporary literature .-It will aim to gather about it every variety of

The range of articles will be a wide one, covering among other grounds, Essays, Sketches, Humorous Tales, Stories, Historical Incidents, Reviews, Critiques, Biographies, Scientific Aricles, Travels, Table Talk, Dramas, Incidents, Politics, Poems, Ballads, Stanzas, Sonnets, Music, Correspondence, Gossip, etc., etc., etc. The Magazine will be profusely illustrated in the highest style of wood engraving. The Literary Department will present greater variety, combined with more thorough excellence, it is believed, than ever before offered to the American public in a single periodical.-The tollowing authors and popular writers are included in the list of contributors engaged : George D. Prentiss, Charles Swain, Fitz-Green Halleck, Chas. J. Ingersoll, Orestes A. Brownson, Gen. George P. Morris Nathaniel Deering, Cranch, Wm H. McIntosh, Alice B. Haven, Pamelia S. Vining, Mary A. Rice, Ada M. Kennicott, Elizabeth K. Churchill.

In addition to the foregoing brilliant array of American authors, there are a large number of first-class writers engaged, (among them some er lengthwise of the bridge; suddenly they of the most distinguished of the day,) who are compelled, from pre-existing engagements, or other causes, to withhold their names for the present, but who will, nevertheless, contribute frequently to our pages. We would also announce that we shall add to our list of contributors the names of other distinguished authors, as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be completed. Each number will contain an original piece of music, composed expressly for this work. in every respect, and of the certainty of its permanent success, very little more need be said.

The terms and general conditions of the Mag azine will be as follows: - TERMS . -VOLUMES -There will be two volumes a year, of about 700 royal octavo pages each, commencing in January and July, and ending in lune and December, respectively, making six numbers to each volume, and twelve numbers to each year.
